

Give your studies some global perspective.

The Medical Student Externship Program gives students of medicine and related health sciences an opportunity, commensurate with their levels, to take part in rounds, participate in the wards, attend lectures and receive informal instruction at the Western Galilee Hospital- Nahariya (WGH).

Who may participate?

The program is open to Medical students who have completed at least one year of study as well as Nursing students and Physician's Assistant students.

What is the Externship?

A one-month rotating externship is an opportunity to learn about Israel's high medical standards and its concern with quality medical care.

Will I get to tour Israel?

Evenings and weekends are your own; Nahariya is a beachfront city and is connected to the rest of the country by train and other public transportation.

Cost and Housing

Apartments are available on the hospital grounds. Fees cover rental fee and 1 meal a day in staff dining room. Please contact us for more information.

Application Requirements

Written request, official transcripts, 2 letters of recommendation (one from dean of your school). Students are responsible for travel arrangements.

Get out of the classroom and step into the world of global healthcare systems.

WGH Externships are available on rotating basis to fit your school curriculum. Tailor made programs give you the opportunity to build your externship in any combination of available departments within your school's timetable. Hear what other students have had to say about their Externships at WGH.
